

Source: KBHistoryMasterIndex

#ref

- When upset by a reading (Sushu @ Kennedy)
 - 31 August 2020, Sushu Block 1
 - Helpful to diagram out the author's argument
 - What are the author's claims?
 - Where is the evidence?
 - What spin does the author put on it? (Seen as a strength or weakness?)
 - Examples
 - 20hist201srcBreakoutKennedyChinaBreakdown.png
 - Analyze evidence
 - Does it exist?
 - Where are the gaps in the argument?
 - How does the author define terms?
 - This feels like thinking like a sports fan
 - Doing Readings
 - Create atomic notes, like a zettelkasten
 - 1. Skim for length, decide what not to read
 - 2. Get a note taking doc
 - 3. Annotate for
 - 1. Structure: "x reasons/characteristics, Firstly, primarily, secondly, in addition"
 - 2. Claims
 - 3. key points
 - 4. Write summary phrases for paragraphs
 - 5. Skip things you don't need to read (if you already know about it)
-