

Source: KBhHIST201Ottomans1500

1 | The Ottomans' Fall

“Natural consequences of earlier Turkish successes”

- Got Romanitus — expanded too much to the point of unmanagability => “Strategical Overextension”
@ KBhHIST201KennedyCh1
- Switched to an “Iron Fist” management style of crushing dissidents, encouraging the Persians to ally with the Europeans to crush the Ottomans
- Suffered from being centralized, despotic, and severely orthodox
 - Emperor had too much power
 - Country became over-conservative #why
 - Bureaucracy became too heavy
- Heavy internal plundering
 - High taxes
 - Seizures of property
 - Depopulated towns
 - Unorderly soldiers
 - Bribery

Problems with Silver KBhHIST201ProblemsWithSilver

- Affected landowners
- Could not build stronger military
- Caused the weakening of calvalrymen + increase in reliance on POWs